Environmental policy

"Doing the right thing"

A tall, white wind turbine stands on a grassy hill. The turbine has three blades and a nacelle with the number '5125V' visible. The background is a clear, light-colored sky.

At Hillier Hopkins we take pride in doing the right thing. Whether it's the friendly expertise we provide to our clients or the choice of a renewable energy provider to power our office, we want to make a positive difference. That's why as a firm we are committed to minimising our environmental footprint wherever possible across all three of our office locations.

Our environmental commitment

We understand our actions matter and that by making sustainable decisions we can help create a better world for all, now and into the future. We are committed to the measures outlined in this policy to improve our environmental performance and promote environmental awareness across our firm. Environmental responsibility matters to our principals, our team members and our clients and we will continue to communicate our sustainability efforts to help drive our commitment forwards.

While we offer advice and support to clients nationally and overseas, we are also proud of our ties to our local office areas. Through our new sustainability commitments, we are dedicated to extending and developing our offices' links to the local area and helping do our bit to make a positive impact on the planet.

Our firmwide aims are therefore to:

Implement sustainable procurement across the firm

Ensuring that in all purchasing decisions consideration is given to minimising environmental impacts wherever possible through the procurement of environmentally responsible products.

Minimise consumption and waste generation

Targeting areas for improvement such as minimising paper usage wherever possible and achieving greater energy efficiency through monitoring and management procedures.

Develop partnerships with local environmental organisations

Building on our strong local corporate social responsibility commitments and making a difference for the planet by working with environmental groups on projects that matter to our local area and our team members.

Continue to build our environmental culture

Developing our internal communication on environmental issues and encouraging dialogue between team members on how we can look to continuously improve. Offering opportunities for all team members to get involved and make a difference.
